

Event Program Guide

5-8 March 2026

Schedule Overview

*Explore resources and materials from our partners to inspire disciple-making.

Meals are on your own. Connect with others and enjoy downtown together.

Sessions: Inspire to Action

Each session weaves together a focused TED-style talk, a real-life story, a panel conversation, and time to reflect with those around you. Together, these elements are designed to inspire action, moving you from ideas to meaningful steps in everyday disciple-making.

Workshops: Equip for Effectiveness

Workshops provide 90 minutes of interactive, hands-on learning tied directly to each session's theme. With four options per session, these spaces are crafted to equip you for effectiveness, helping you practice and apply tools and principles in your own life and context. At the end, you'll be invited to join a 6-8 month virtual cohort, an opportunity to keep growing and practicing what you've learned alongside others.

Evening Connections: Connect to Collaborate

Our evenings offer relaxed opportunities to gather, pray, worship, and build meaningful relationships. These moments help you connect to collaborate, forming the kind of community where shared mission takes root and grows.

Expo / Trade Show

Explore resources from our partners: practical tools, take-home materials, and digital downloads, all designed to equip you to make disciples in everyday life.

ALL EVENT LOCATIONS

The main morning sessions will be held at the Eleon Loft, slightly outside of the downtown Athens area.

Meals, workshops, dinners, evening activities, and most of the city's sights will be in central downtown Athens.

Since downtown is where meals and the majority of the event happens, we suggest staying near the city center.

Main Session Topics

The main sessions will tie together what the ALL Initiative is all about: ALL is a community of everyday disciples who make disciples in daily life, reaching Europe. Each session will cover a section of this vision, so that you can be inspired and equipped to make disciples in your everyday life.

ALL is a community

Discipleship happens best together. Jesus didn't call isolated followers—He formed a community that learned, served, and grew side by side. Making disciples is not a solo act but a shared journey of faith, where we find encouragement, accountability, and growth as we follow Jesus together.

ALL is about everyone

Disciple-making is not reserved for the "experts." Every follower of Jesus is called and empowered by the Holy Spirit to participate in God's mission. This segment affirms that no one is too ordinary, unqualified, or unequipped to be a part of what God is doing.

ALL is about making disciples

The Great Commission is at the heart of Jesus' call to His followers. Making disciples means introducing people to Jesus, walking with them as they grow in faith, and helping them multiply by discipling others. It's about both evangelism and spiritual formation, bringing people to maturity in Christ and equipping them to do the same for others.

ALL is about every day

Disciple-making isn't an event. It's a lifestyle. It's about how to integrate Jesus' mission into daily routines—being present, prayerful, and purposeful wherever life happens: at the dinner table, in conversations, at work and on the go.

Session Breakdown

15 min – TED-style Talk

A focused, inspiring message on the session theme.

5 min – Video Story

Real-life example of everyday disciple-making in action.

30 min – Panel Interview

Honest conversation and insights from practitioners.

15 min – Group Discussion

Reflect and share with those sitting around you.

Speaker Lineup

Jane Hempenius

Wojciech Kowalewski

Bodo Park

Miriam Swanson

Karl Martin

Meet the Speakers

Jane Hempenius

Jane is a systematic theologian with a passion for the centrality of Jesus in Kingdom theology and what that means for the Church today. She also enjoys talking about the reliability of the Christian faith. Jane has served as a pastor and a church planter within the Vineyard Movement. In addition, she serves on several non-executive boards. Jane is married to Remco, and together they have two adult sons.

Miriam Swanson

Miriam grew up in the south of England and served with the Fusion movement across the UK and Europe for 10 years. She now serves as the US National Team Leader. Miriam wants to see university students equipped to live out the mission in their everyday life on campus and beyond. She and her husband, Ben, are raising their two little ones (soon to be three) in Florida, USA.

Wojciech Kowalewski

Wojciech is the founder and president of the Golden Apple Institute. He is committed to helping leaders recognise their influence and workplace as a sphere of disciple-making. He and his wife, Agnieszka, live in Wroclaw, Poland.

Bodo Park

Bodo is a 2nd Gen South Korean who grew up in Germany. He planted a church while working full-time as a trash man. Bodo is now using his more than 20 years of experience to pour into other young leaders and church planters. He and his wife, Moon-Sook, live in Frankfurt with their two adult children, Somi and Damin, and his parents (and usually someone else they have taken in as another spiritual child).

Karl Martin

After decades of walking alongside leaders in churches, businesses, and organisations, Karl brings deep wisdom in guiding people to grow in character, purpose, and healthy rhythms that impact those around them. Karl lives in Nashville and Scotland with his wife Niki and their four grown daughters.

Workshops

Connected to the Theme

Each workshop builds on the main session topic, helping you move from inspiration to practical steps in your own life and context. There will be four workshops for each session—sixteen in total—to choose from throughout the event.

90-Minute Format

Plenty of time to go deep and get practical, even beginning to apply things right away. A 30-minute break helps you move easily between workshops.

Interactive and Practical

These aren't lecture-style workshops. You'll engage, practice, and apply ideas together in ways that make sense for your everyday life and ministry.

Join a Cohort

At the end of each workshop, you'll be invited to join a 6-8 month virtual cohort, an opportunity to keep growing and practicing what you've learned alongside others.

Workshop Topics and Facilitators

Workshop Session 1: Community Friday 15:15 – 16:45

 Royal Olympic Hotel, Room Attica

Workshop 1 | Family on Mission: Living and Multiplying Community Together

with Bodo Park | Frankfurt, Germany | Süd Projekt

What does it look like to live as a spiritual family on mission, sharing everyday life with purpose? In this workshop, Bodo Park draws from his experience in missional house church planting to explore how authentic community grows through shared rhythms, intentional relationships, and a united commitment to making disciples. Participants will discover simple, practical practices that help communities live as a family on mission, supporting one another, multiplying naturally, and reaching others through everyday life. Expect an engaging and relational session that connects the vision of community from the main session with concrete and lived examples.

Workshop 2 | Blueprints, Baby Booties, and Baccalaureates: How Transformative is Your Spiritual Community?

with Ellie Strenk | USA | Community Bible Study

How do we start with dreams on a blueprint, then watch God breathe to life a thriving community shaped by authentic relationships and shared purpose? In this workshop, we explore Psalm 127 to glean wisdom from the pattern of family: purposeful prayer coupled with strategic planning, equipping, and releasing of mature people who attract others to relationally engage in God's Word. In addition, join Ellie and others in the Community Bible Study family to discuss real stories of how God has utilised everyday people to expand His family in extraordinary ways.

Come ready to engage, ask questions, share insights, and leave filled with ideas you can begin using right away in your own context.

Workshop 3 | Moving from Bible Study to Missional Community

with Josh Walsh | Liverpool, United Kingdom | Greater Europe Mission UK

Discover how ordinary small groups can grow into communities that live with purpose, accountability, and shared mission. Josh Walsh will introduce practical mindset shifts and simple rhythms that help groups move beyond information and into active disciple making. Participants will identify common barriers, learn healthy practices for missional momentum, and leave with steps they can apply immediately in their own context.

What does it take for an ordinary small group to become a community that lives with purpose, multiplication, and shared mission? In this workshop Josh will draw from years of experience in church planting and coaching groups to move beyond comfort and into intentional disciple making. You will learn how small groups can shift from simply gathering for Bible study to becoming communities that carry momentum and mission together. We will explore the mindsets and practices that help people break out of familiar patterns and embrace rhythms that lead to growth, accountability, spiritual movement, and multiplication.

Expect an interactive environment where you will work together in teams, identify barriers that keep groups stuck, and discover practical rhythms you can apply to help any group move toward genuine missional community.

Workshop 4 | Discovery Bible Study: A Method for Every Situation

with Jay Vetter | Paris, France | Discovery Bible Study and Greater Europe Mission

Explore how Discovery Bible Study can create meaningful community and encourage practical response to Scripture. Jay Vetter will introduce this simple and reproducible approach that works in many settings, from conversations with seekers to house churches and small groups. Participants will experience the method together and learn how it can strengthen relationships, deepen engagement with Scripture, and encourage natural multiplication. Expect a hands-on session with group interaction, shared reflection, and practical guidance you can use immediately in your own context.

 Royal Olympic Hotel, Room Attica

Workshop 5 | The Eight Steps of the Missions Continuum: From the Local Church to the Mission Field

with Kelly Seely | Frankfurt, Germany | Discipleship Without Borders

This workshop is a practical, interactive space designed to help everyday believers understand how cross-cultural missions actually happen and what role they play in that process. Using the Eight Steps of the Missions Continuum, participants will explore how the path from the local church to the mission field is shaped by ordinary discipleship, shared obedience, and faithful community life.

Through guided discussion, reflection, and participant sharing, we will explore practical questions such as: What task has Jesus actually given the church? Where do I fit in that task right now? What barriers keep believers and churches from living this out? And how can everyday disciples help shape a global vision in their church that leads to faithful cross-cultural sending? Participants will leave with a clearer understanding of the Eight Steps, how they move from the local church to the mission field, and how their everyday discipleship can help their church faithfully make disciples of all nations.

Workshop 6 | ALL is About 'Everyone Gets to Play'

with Jane Hempenius | Rotterdam, Netherlands

If the same Holy Spirit who empowered Jesus now empowers us, then disciple-making is not reserved for a few experts but is the joyful calling of every follower of Jesus. In the kingdom of God, there are no spectators. Everyone gets to play!

Together, we will explore how to make this a reality in our everyday lives. We will learn to recognise what the Father is doing, to listen to the Spirit guiding us in ordinary moments, and to step into disciple-making with confidence.

Jane will guide us in simple, accessible practices of hearing God, using the spiritual "toolbox" that every believer carries. During this interactive session, through reflection, listening prayer and practice appreciation, you will not only learn but also experience what it means to join God in His work wherever and whenever.

Workshop 7 | Is Missions Only for the “Called”?

with Emma Elkins | London, United Kingdom | VIA Nations
and Grace Laminack | Frankfurt, Germany | VIA Nations

This workshop explores God’s heart for the world and first helps you explore your unique place in the great commission, and then how to make disciples who share the same heartbeat. Together we will look at the biblical story of God’s mission, the current spiritual landscape of the world, and the major ways believers can participate in God’s redemptive work. Using the simple and reproducible tool of “The Window”, we will learn a framework that helps everyday believers reflect on their passions, gifts and the needs around them, and begin to identify their most strategic role in God’s mission and live out a holistic lifestyle of discipleship that includes God’s heart for all nations. The workshop will offer clear teaching, guided reflection and practical tools you can easily share with others.

Workshop 8 | Disciple Maker Pathway: Equipping Everyday Believers to Make Disciples

with Jez Dearing and Dan Mandley | Birmingham, United Kingdom | Oikos Collective

This workshop introduces a simple 7-week disciple-making journey that helps everyday believers intentionally engage their oikos—their existing networks of relationships—with the good news of Jesus. Rooted in prayer and shaped by the posture of Christ, the Disciple Maker Pathway offers a clear and accessible framework for living missionally within ordinary life. Participants will be given an overview of the full journey, with a brief taster of one or two core tools such as extraordinary prayer, mapping their oikos, or Discovery Bible Studies. The session is designed to demystify disciple-making, build confidence, and inspire ordinary Christians to follow Jesus in their neighbourhoods, workplaces, and communities, seeing communities of light emerge from everyday life.

Workshop 9 | Investing Like Paul – Principles from 1 Thessalonians

with Jason Lim and Kevin Butzbach | Frankfurt, Germany | Mosaikkirche Nordwest

Looking at 1 Thessalonians as an example of how Paul understood his investment into others, we conclude some helpful principles that can start applying to our own context and relationships.

With stories shared from more than a decade worth of experience in multicultural discipleship, this workshop (and cohort) aims to equip people with six concrete steps to take to invest in people like Paul did.

Workshop 10 | The Science of Spiritual Reproduction: No Lab Coat Required!

with Jacky Falk | Malta | Greater Europe Mission Germany

Have you ever wondered why some disciplemakers naturally reproduce while others struggle to do so? In this workshop, we'll explore a few essential elements of effective disciplemaking, drawing on insightful research from Bob McNabb. We'll also dive deeper into several "growth multipliers" and take time to reflect on how these principles can shape your own context and ministry.

You can expect eyeopening research, thoughtprovoking conversations about your personal journey as a disciplemaker, and—of course—a few good laughs along the way to keep things lively.

Workshop 11 | Become a Cojourner

with Wojtek Kowalewski | Wroclaw, Poland | Golden Apple Institute

This workshop introduces the CoJourney approach, a simple and relational way of joining people on their spiritual journeys by meeting them exactly where they are. Participants will learn how everyday conversations can lead naturally into meaningful spiritual engagement, and how discipling becomes a way of life rather than a program.

During the session, participants will work with the Oikos Mapping tool to identify the people already present in their relational world and to reflect on their spiritual openness and needs. They will practice the CoJourney conversational framework in table groups and will develop a clear nextstep plan for someone on their Oikos map. The workshop blends short teaching, guided reflection and practical group exercises so that each participant leaves with confidence and a concrete plan for initiating gospelcentered conversations where they live, work, learn and play.

The tools used in this workshop include the Oikos Map, the CoJourney conversation framework and facilitated table exercises designed to move participants immediately from insight to action.

Workshop 12 | The Impact of Short-Term Discipleship

with Glauber Destro | Verona, Italy | International Mission Board

This workshop introduces the biblical principles and practical value of Short Term Discipleship. Through group engagement with key Scripture passages, participants will observe how Jesus and Paul helped new believers begin obeying Jesus quickly while avoiding unhealthy dependence on a mentor.

We will explore the difference between short term and long term discipleship, using images such as milk and solid food, and identify the essential practices that new believers can begin right away, as seen in Acts 2:36 to 47. The workshop also highlights how Paul created space for new leaders to grow by stepping back at the right time.

Although brief in format, this approach leads to long term growth and multiplication by equipping everyday believers to make disciples simply, biblically and with confidence.

Workshop 13 | Everyday Disciples Making Disciples in Everyday Life by Loving Our Neighbours

with Sammy Jordan | Eastleigh, United Kingdom | The Hive Network

What if making disciples in our everyday lives is far simpler than we've imagined? Jesus calls us to make disciples as we go through loving God and loving our neighbours in the ordinary rhythms of life. In this workshop, we'll explore how disciple making can become a natural overflow of daily living rather than a complicated program.

Participants will be introduced to the Love Your Neighbour resource, a practical tool designed to equip and mobilise everyday Christians to meaningfully engage with their non-Christian neighbours and friends. Through stories, interactive elements, and hands-on practices, this workshop will help you discover how to live out the Great Commission in simple, accessible, and transformative ways.

Workshop 14 | Kingdom Impact in Your Everyday, Ordinary Life!

with Remco Hempenius | Rotterdam, Netherlands | SMIT-CO

How do we live as disciples of Jesus in the places where much of our daily life unfolds? In this workshop, you explore what it means to integrate faith into your everyday working life. Remco Hempenius draws on his experience as a global business leader and pastor in a secular marketplace.

Join us to discover practical tools for showing up with purpose, understanding your calling, influencing workplace culture, and living as an agent of hope and transformation in your daily context.

Workshop 15 | 'You Have Heard it Said...' The Church as a Subset of the Kingdom with Karl Martin | USA | Arable

Karl's workshop offers a disruptive reframing of mission: presence before activity. Instead of starting with strategies or tasks, he explores how mission naturally flows from being with Jesus, drawing on his belief-behaviour-brand framework to show how deeply held beliefs shape the way others experience us. Through the law of indirect effort and insights from the early oikos communities, Karl invites participants to rediscover a way of life where Jesus is revealed not through programs or positions, but through the overflow of His presence in everyday relationships.

Workshop 16 | Tangible Jesus: Making Christ Visible in Everyday Life with Lionel Bendobal | Offenbach, Germany | Kirche am Start

What if Jesus could be seen not only in your Sunday worship, but in the ordinary moments of your day even in the brief interaction when the mailman hands you your letters? In this workshop, Lionel explores practical ways to make Christ visible through simple daily habits, ordinary tasks, and natural conversations.

Drawing on gospel fluency and spiritual dialogue, you'll discover how your posture, tone, and presence can reveal Jesus in your workplace, neighbourhood, and home. Learn how everyday life becomes sacred ground where the character of Christ quietly and authentically shines through.
